Conferences Meetings Facilitation Consultations

From small meetings to major conferences, from logistics to complete solutions, PCC events deliver value for money and superb results to clients in the NHS, the public and third sectors

Ethos

PCC Events is part of Primary Care Commissioning CIC, a social enterprise with roots in the NHS.

Our mission is to support the development of commissioning and ultimately benefit the NHS and patients.

Our values are reflected in everything we do:

- Value for money through meticulous planning and careful procurement
- Sustainability via elimination of waste and recycling of materials
- Consideration for the needs of clients and the individual needs of delegates
- Constant improvement through attention to feedback and evaluation

'The service from PCC was excellent. During the organisation phase the team were prompt, efficient, well-informed and cheerful throughout, and provided valuable input to structuring the day to best effect. On the day the PCC team were superbly organised, well-briefed, smart, courteous and efficient. I would use them again'
NHS South East Coast

Experience

The PCC team ran 450 events in 2009/10, from focus groups, workshops and network meetings to conferences with 300 plus delegates.

The full-time events team is well-qualified, dedicated and experienced. Our staff are energetic, resourceful and hard working.

'The PCC team work with us as an extension of our own team leaving us confident that we can concentrate on the event dynamics rather than the meeting logistics'

Mental Health Programme Manager, DH

Customers

The PCC events team is the sole provider of event services to NHS PCC. It is also trusted to run events for the Department of Health, including national conferences, regional workshops and public consultations.

PCC now also provides event services to other public sector organisations, service providers and commissioners in health and social care, the third sector and charities.

Just what you need and no more

Every event we run is designed and shaped with the client. We can take all the arrangements off your hands or provide only the elements you need.

We can advise on what will make your event a success, but we will also advise where you can save money without cutting corners.

Our prices are competitive and are constantly benchmarked against the market. Quotes are clear, straightforward and easy to understand.

'A really useful, well organised event. PCC accommodated my special needs and were friendly and helpful'

Evaluation

How do you know your event has been a success?

We measure the satisfaction of delegates after the event – everything from the convenience of the venue, the organisation, the help provided by staff and the quality of supporting materials. Most importantly, we measure what delegates learned, what they thought of the speakers or facilitators, and what they gained in confidence and knowledge.

You get this information in the form of a concise evaluation report within ten days of the event.
